Executive Summary for Schools

Description of the School

Describe the school's size, community/communities, location, and changes it has experienced in the last three years. Include demographic information about the students, staff, and community at large. What unique features and challenges are associated with the community/communities the school serves?

Warren Elementary is in the Warren County School District and educates approximately 650 students in preschool through 6th grades. The school is located in the city of Bowling Green, with the school's boundary including addresses in the city limits. The student population is very diverse and serves students with origins of over 25 countries with 28 home languages currently represented. Approximately 60% of the students are English Language Learners and 10% of the students receive Special Education services. Warren Elementary serves a very transient population. Over 90% of the students qualify for free or reduced lunch. The staff at Warren Elementary consists of 55 certified persons and 34 classified employees. Two staff members are bilingual. The unique demographics of Warren Elementary provide both strengths and challenges. Because of the transient nature of the population, many students enter and withdraw throughout the school year. A teacher's class of students on the last day of school is likely to be significantly different than it was on the first day of school. There are many students within the school that require specially designed instruction. This may come through the form of Special Education or English Language Learner services. The school currently employs 5 special education teachers, 3 special education instructional assistants, 2 speech pathologists, 6 English Language Learner teachers, and 4 English Language Learner instructional assistants.
